

(Keyfile) 1 file and 1 keyword

This command creates a password from a key file, 1 file and 1 keyword.

8:27

File And Keyword Password (with Keyfile)

Keyfile Filename

select clear

Password (for decrypting Keyfile)

input clear

Filename

select clear

Keyword

input clear

[Back]

8:27

File And Keyword Password (with Keyfile)

Filename

select clear

Keyword

input clear

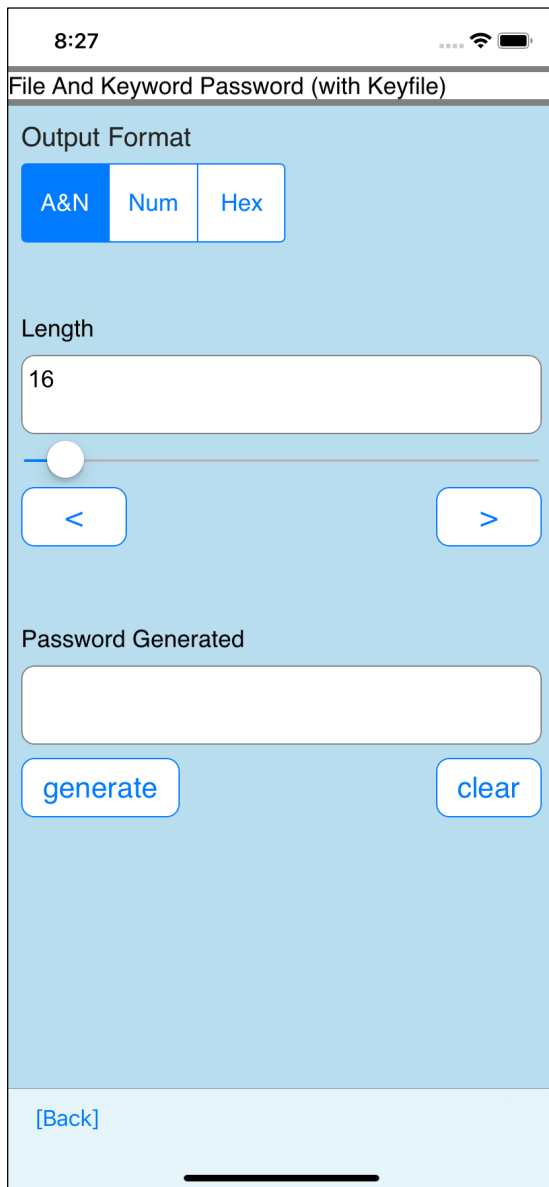

Output Format

A&N Num Hex

Length

< >

[Back]

The user interface looks like this.

Key file name

Key file decryption password

Name of the file to generate password from

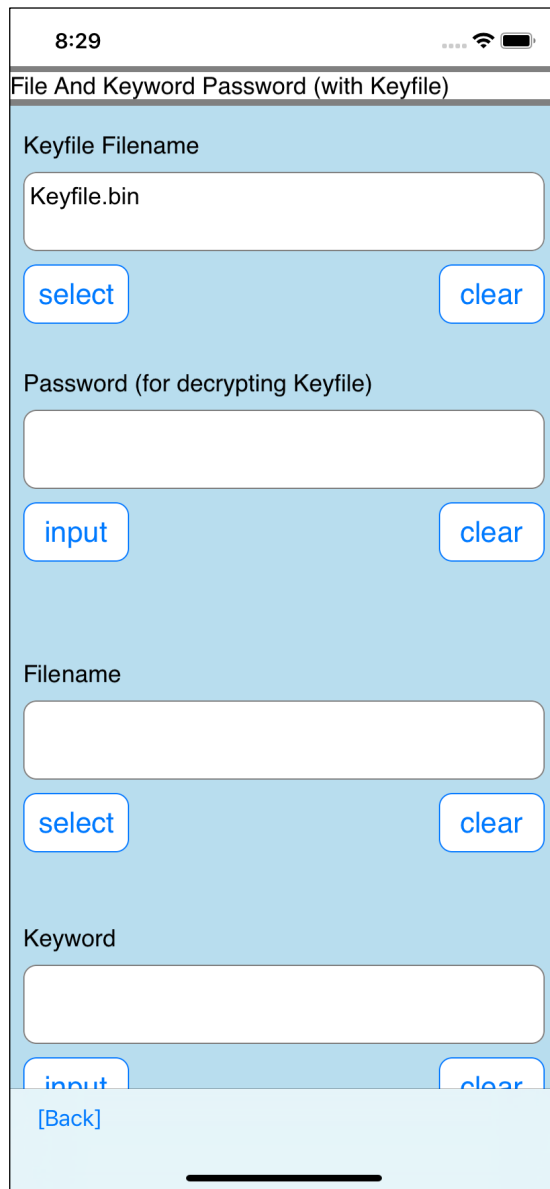

Keyword

Output format

Password length

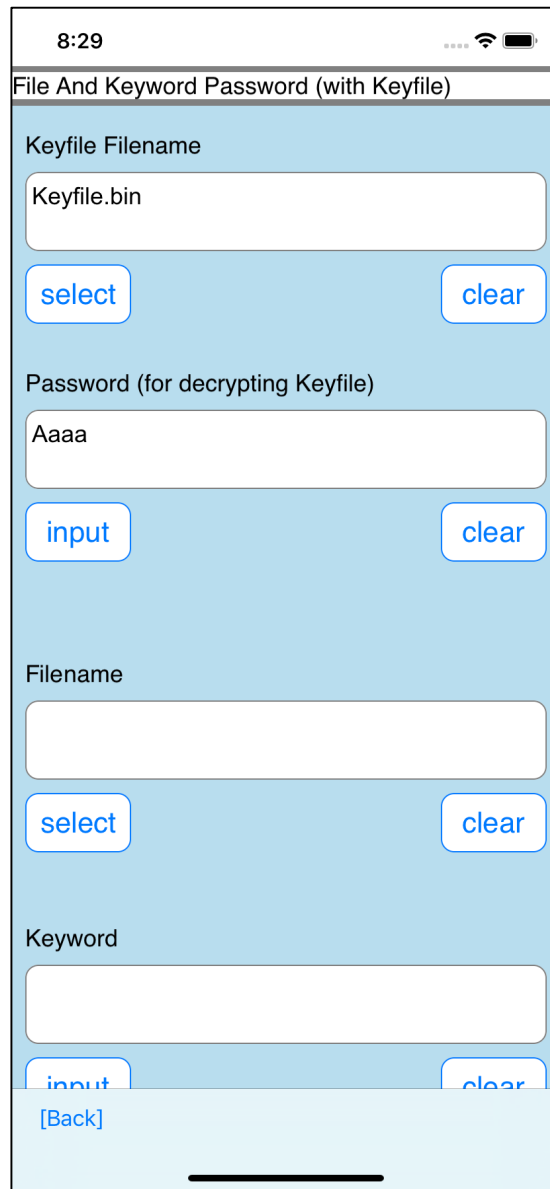

Generated password

This is the meaning.

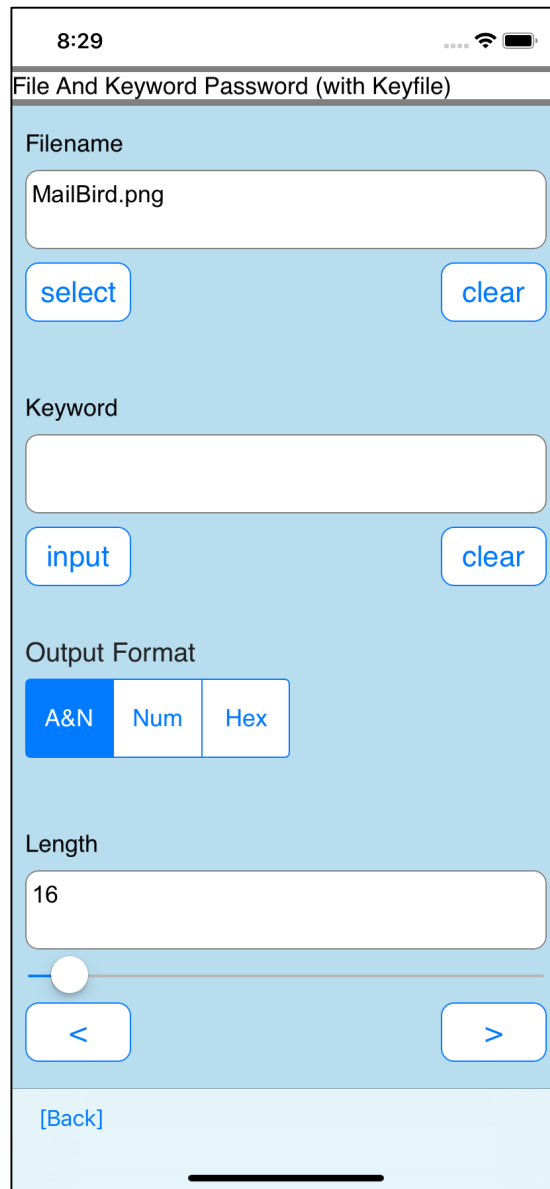

You can get a text view like this by pressing the lower left “select” button of the text view with the file name.

Select a file and press the “Decide” button on the toolbar to return.

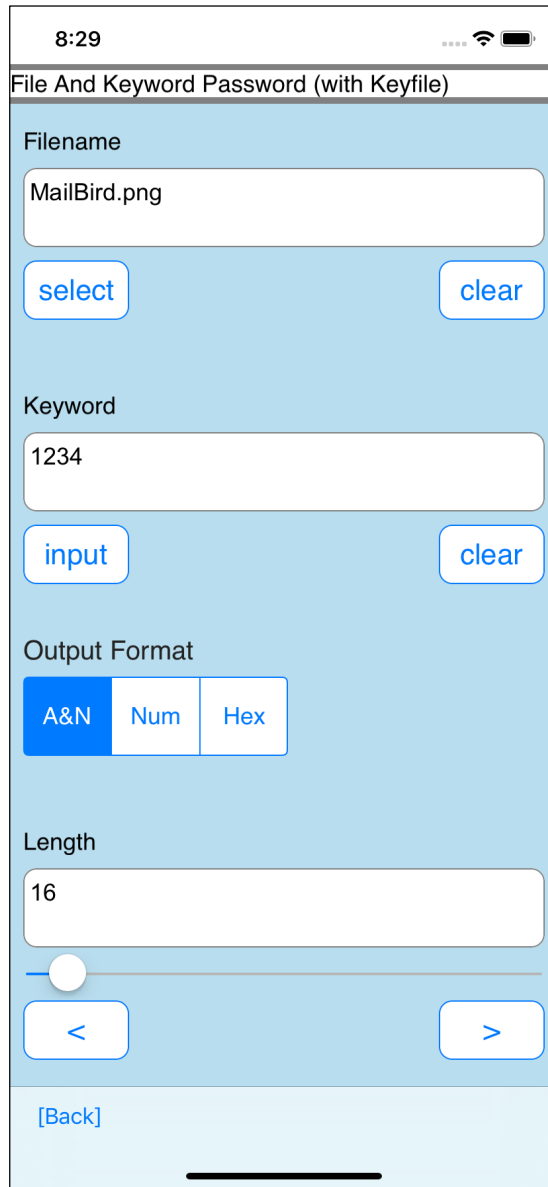

When you press the “input” button under the password text view of the key file, a view for password entry appears as shown at left.

Enter the password used to decrypt the key file and press the "Decide" button on the toolbar to return.

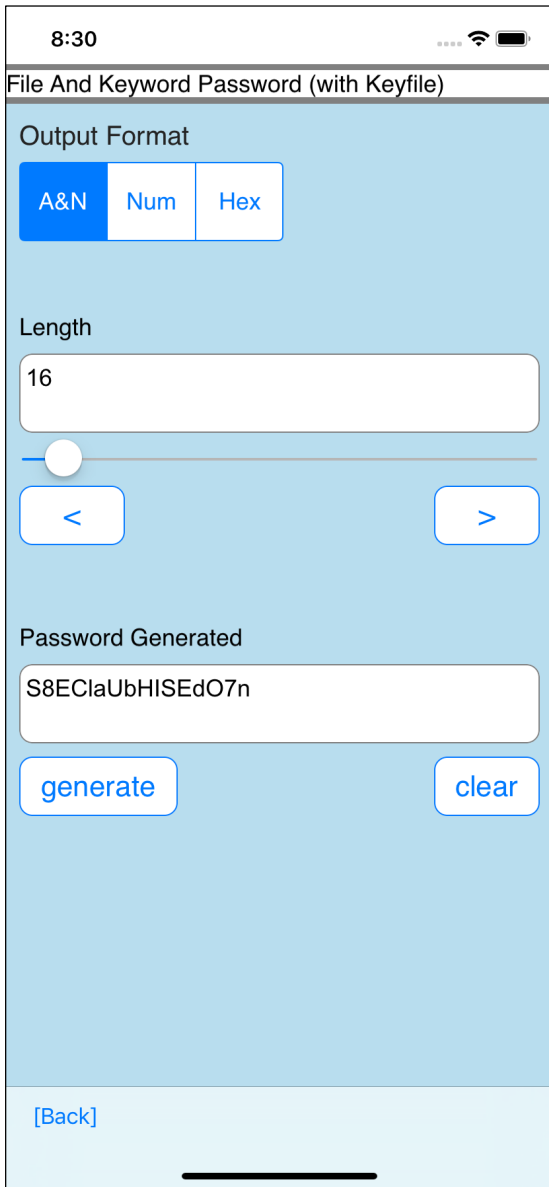

You can get a text view like this by pressing the lower left “select” button of the text view with the file name.

Select a file and press the “Decide” button on the toolbar to return as shown below.

Press the lower left "input" button of the keyword text view to bring up a view for entering such keywords.

After entering a keyword, press the "Decide" button on the toolbar to return.

The password will be displayed like this when you press the “generate” button.